NEW BUSINESS HEADQUARTERS

Northwest Radiology Network, P.C. (NWR) recently moved into its new business headquarters at 5901 Technology Center Drive, located on the northwest corner of 96th and Zionsville Road. This new building was built by Browning Construction, and Simmons & Associates and Design Plan handled architectural responsibilities.

The 25,000 square foot facility contains all administrative functions for the 40-plus physician (radiologists) practice, which specializes in inpatient and outpatient comprehensive imaging services. Business headquarters staff moved into this new facility June 1, 2007. This new business headquarters will contain the following departments: Administration, Billing, Coding, Compliance, Credentialing, Human Resources, Informational Technology, Marketing, Operations and Transcription.

The new Northwest Radiology Network Business Headquarters is another welcomed addition to Browning's 42 acre Northwest Technology Center Business Park.

In addition to NWR's Business Headquarters location, NWR has outpatient imaging modalities available at four separate imaging centers. Our mammography facilities are certified by the FDA, as well as accredited by the ACR. Also, we are ACR accredited in MRI, Ultrasonography, CT, and our newest modality, PET-CT.
